Death drew the sable over the mortal career of O. Boehmer at 3:45 p.m. on August 26, 1919, the world losing the passing of one of its ablest men. In the twilight of a score of years of newspaper work, it was always given to this man to agree with him. But he might differ from the public questions of the day, and personally his generous spirit was to be seen. To come in contact with the electrifying intellect of this brilliant mind was to be poorer for the passing of Boehmer. Such were the tributes to his worth, and his wonderful expression the sweetest of verbal forgetmenots could weave would be in all reverence and to the memory of our friend.

Miss Glee Fusselman honored the A. O. T. Club with a swimming party at the Steigler crossing Friday evening, August 1st. Several cars of the younger set, with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Beal as chaperones, formed the jolly party. After all had enjoyed a delightful splash, Miss Glee served delicious sandwiches, cake and iced tea. About ten o'clock the crowd started for a merry moonlight ride home. x.

More Boys Coming Home.
Joe Breiten arrived at the Hondo station unexpected from overseas Wednesday night. His relatives had heard of him from Virginia and expected him not before the end of the week. Without hesitation Joe secured him an auto from the Citizens' Motor Car Co. and soon reached the home of Grandma Breiten. His folks there recognized his voice before they saw him and they all enjoyed some happy hours Wednesday night. Joe returned in the best of health, having gained 35 pounds in weight. When he reported at our office Thursday he mentioned the joy he had whenever he received an Anvil Herald over there.

Travis Berry sent a telegram from New York to his mother, Mr. J. H. Berry, here, saying that he arrived safely in the United States and was on the way to Camp Merritt, New Jersey, from where he will be sent to Camp Travis.

Ross Holloway also is in the United States, on the way home. He was at Camp Merritt, N. J., Thursday.

Lt. Joe Rogers and Tom J. Neumann are also expected to cross the ocean homeward.

The patrons of the Hondo High School now have thirteen of the fourteen and one-half credits necessary to give it full affiliation with the State University. This is the highest rating our school has ever attained and is a high tribute to the efficiency of Prof. J. W. Peeler, late superintendent, and faculty that had charge of the school the past scholastic year. When one remembers the many handicaps under which the school operated the past year we believe every one will agree that the record is a remarkable one, and there is but little doubt that the school would have won full affiliation but for the frequent interruptions. There is no question of the value of affiliation. It would save patrons who desire to give their children higher educational advantages than is afforded by the public school hundreds of dollars as it would eliminate the necessity of one or more terms in a preparatory school in order to enable the student to acquire the necessary credits to gain admission into the various universities. Our school is now near the goal that is dear to the heart of every friend of education. A united effort now on the part of the faculty and patrons is all that is necessary to put our school in the front ranks of educational institutions in West Texas. Let everyone do his duty.

Matt Rath went foraging out about Quini one day this week, and as a result the Anvil Herald folks will be able to exist a few days longer despite the high cost of living. In his expedition he visited the farm of John Hauser and as things looked good to him he concluded to hang out right there. Mr. Rath ostensibly was hunting for wood but when his car left the Hauser home it looked like a wholesale vegetable store on wheels. Among other things presented to this office was a lot of sweet peppers that looked more like oat sacks than any other comparison that occurs to us. But this gift has its embarrassing feature. As it will require about a quarter of a good sized beef to stuff one of these peppers we suppose they will have to go into cold storage to await the day when the meat packing barons are wearing strips in the pen, and the individual with a modest income can at least purchase a sheet of butcher's paper without any meat in it. Mr. Rath also presented this office with a couple of cashaws but we will refrain from saying anything about their size for fear we would be accused of exaggeration, a thing we always studiously avoid. Mr. Rath says Mr. Hauser has wagon loads of sweet pepper and hundreds of cashaws. Mrs. Rath accompanied Mr. Rath on this foraging expedition and to both of them we extend thanks for kind remembrances.

By a score of 11 to 2 the Hondo base ball boys went down to defeat before the Devine team at the de Montel Park Thursday afternoon. The principal business houses closed at 4:00 o'clock to allow those of their employees who desired to do so to witness the game, and as a result one of the greatest crowds that has assembled at the park in the past couple of years was present. C. Koch and S. Fly did the battery work for Hondo, while Redus and Crawford discharged a similar service for the visitors.

The high price of shoes is explained to be due to excessive profits taken by every factor in the shoe production industry, from the meat packers, who control the supply of hides, the high profits of the tanners and the shoe manufacturers, to the retailers who have charged prices that are not justifiable.

A Mysterious Robbery.
H. J. Brown, a young bank messenger employed by the Alamo National Bank, was robbed of $36,000 in bank notes by an unmasked robber at 10 o'clock Thursday afternoon, a few minutes after he had cashed a check at the Frost National Bank for his bank in San Antonio. On the way back to the Alamo Nat. Bank he was met by a tall white man in front of the L. Frank Saddlery Co., who said 'You come with me, I got a gun in my pocket held on you'. The messenger then was marched in zig-zag route to a vacant lot next to Geo. R. Stumberg's store, 214 South Flores street. The young man who is said to be a former D'Hanis resident, followed his new master as if hypnotized, followed him into a clump of weeds where the robber stuffed a handkerchief in his mouth and tied another one around his head, and tied his hands and feet with a rope. Then he took the $36,000 in bank notes from young Brown and drove off in an automobile. To make the story still more fit for a 'wild west show' a real Indian from Oklahoma, who camps out in the rear of the Stumberg store, comes to the rescue of the young man. Clerks of the store rush to the telephone and the police starts a chase to overtake the tall white man in possession of the $36,000 in bank notes — Arthur J. Clements, arrested 5 hours later. The money recovered.

NO SWIVEL CHAIR FOR FORD'S SON

STAYED AT HOME DURING WAR TO HELP IN PLANT—REFUSED TO TAKE UNIFORM.

FATHER WAS RESPONSIBLE

Declares He Told Edsel That War Work in Factory Needed Him—Would Not Accept Safety First Commission.

Mr. Clemens, Mich.—Henry Ford, during the last hour of his seven days on the witness stand, took occasion to claim full responsibility for his son, Edsel Ford's, claim for exemption from the selective draft. "He wanted to enlist," said Mr. Ford, "but I told him that he could do more good where he was. He was offered several commissions which would have permitted him to wear a uniform and stay right in the factory, but he wouldn't accept them."

Having made their decision, it was shown, both Mr. Ford and his son refused to camouflage it behind a swivel chair commission carrying boots and spurs.

This subject, the introduction of which has been awaited ever since the trial opened, did not develop along the lines which had been generally expected. Mr. Ford's inclination to shoulder full responsibility, his statement that his son was absolutely essential to the war work being done in the factory and his revelation of the fact that Edsel Ford turned down several offers of a commission, disarmed criticism. The charges, spread during a political campaign, and recently repeated on the floor of the United States senate, to the effect that the young president of the Ford Motor company had shirked his duty were so fully refuted that Tribune counsel did not pursue the point.

It was the first time that a full explanation of the facts in connection with Edsel Ford's war work has been made public and it was easily the feature of the eleventh week of the trial.

Henry Ford spent seven days on the witness stand and of this time he gave less than two hours to his own lawyers. As long as counsel for The Tribune was hammering him Mr. Ford sat quietly in the witness chair answering the constant fire of questions with great patience. But the instant his own lawyers took him in hand his attitude changed. He became self-conscious and diffident. He would not accept the efforts of his counsel to provide him with an opportunity to reveal the full extent of his patriotic work during the war, his humanitarian views, or his advanced ideas of the relations which should exist between capital and labor.

"It is all in the records," said Mr. Ford. "I have told it all here once." He avoided, with care, anything that verged on boasting. He would not even describe the extent of the war work which his factories did and when record breaking performances in the production of munitions was mentioned he declared, "we did all we could, let it go at that. I want to forget about it. I feel just as the soldiers feel, I don't want to talk about my war work."

The witness did, however, after being pressed, explain that his son had bought out the minority stockholders of the Ford Motor company because these interests had insisted on Mr. Ford squeezing the last dollar out of the public, the government, the workers and the product. He wanted to cut loose from his associates, he said, so that he could carry out his ideas of the distribution of profits to employees through increased wages and to the public through lower prices. It was either buy or sell and Mr. Ford had considered selling and organizing a new company. His son, however, took up the task of buying out the minority stockholders and succeeded, despite the general belief in the financial world that this stock could not be purchased.

One of the most interesting developments of Mr. Ford's testimony came out when it was testified that the only legislation he has ever sought was that for the protection of birds. Other men of millions, it was shown, keep lobbyists in the national and state capitol to urge and work for special privileges, but the one favor that Mr. Ford has ever asked from the lawmakers had nothing to do with his own interests. It was a curious bit of testimony and left a deep impression on the audience in the court chamber.

The subject was a result of questions concerning Mr. Ford's list of friends. He named Thomas Edison and John Burroughs, the naturalist, as his best friends outside of his immediate associates.

Litigation in which Mr. Ford has been interested was another subject of interest. It was shown that when the automobile business was in the first years of its growth all manufacturers of motor cars were compelled to pay tribute to what was known as the Selden patent on internal combustion engines. Mr. Ford fought this patent for seven years and won and by his victory freed the entire industry from its shackles and made possible the wonderful growth which has marked the last few years.

CITY'S PRIDE WELL FOUNDED

Alexandria, Va., Has Right to Boast of Her Present as Well as Her Past Glories.

Alexandria, Va., is a thriving little southern city with a historic background. The city can never decide of which it should be proudest—its prosperous present or historic past. As a rule it divides its pride equally between them. Several times it has been given an opportunity to become part of the District of Columbia and proudly refused.

Alexandrians will show you with equal pride their busy shipyards and harbor and then escort you to one of their ancient landmarks, such as Christ church or the Carlyle house. Christ church is sacred to the memory of the south's two greatest heroes, Washington and Lee. The Washington and Lee pews in the church are side by side, their names marked by silver plates. Twin mural tablets on the church's wall are inscribed to their memory. The chancel rail is the one before which they knelt, the tablets of the Lord's prayer and Apostle's Creed were there in Washington's time. In the vestry room relics of the heroes are preserved—the record of their purchase of their pews, the Bible and the long handled purse used in Washington's time for the offerings.

The congress of Alexandria met in the old Carlyle house, over twenty years before the battle of Lexington was fought. It was the first protest against "taxation without representation" held in Virginia. It was in this same old mansion that the Braddock expedition was decided upon. Washington was a frequent visitor to the house. His diary has often the words: "Lodged at Col. Carlyle's."

OLD LAW ON STATUTE BOOKS

If British Judges Were Guided by It There Would Be Some Confusion in the "Island Empire."

Many curious acts of parliament still remain on the statute book, remarks the London Daily Mail. Every little while these appear in the courts, but as the British judges decide cases more by the public interest than by the law they cause very little trouble.

Three acts have been quoted this week. One referred to an act of George II., which allowed the landlord to charge a tenant he wished to leave his premises double rent. The plaintiff claimed, but lost his case.

Another was a claim by the admiralty for freight on bullion carried from South Africa on a warship. This claim was decided in favor of the bankers, who got their freight free owing to an act that was passed in 1819 for the purpose of stopping the abuse of the privilege of conveying bullion in king's ships by the commercial community.

An act that is still enforced is one of James I., dated 1424, a Scottish statute. It reads:

"If any mine of gold or silver be found in any lord's lands of the realm and it may be proved that three half-pennies of silver may be fined out of the pound of lead, the lords of parliament consent that such mine may be the king's, as is usual of other realms."

Weather Signs.

People living near the seashore say a storm is "brewing" when the air is salty, caused by the wind blowing from the east.

A red or copper-colored sun or moon indicates great heat. A silvery moon denotes clear, cool weather.

The old Indian sign of a dry month was when the ends of the new moon were nearly horizontal and one of them resembled a hook on which to hang his powder horn.

Many people troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia usually are excellent barometers and can predict changeable weather by "feeling it in their bones."

And the advice of the old weather sage is "never go out during April month without being accompanied by your umbrella."

As to Punctuation.

With all that may be said about punctuation its use is pretty well as much part and parcel of the writer as are the words of the text. To one man a comma is merely "a breathing," and he puts one in where a reader would seem to need to pause for breath; whereas to others a comma is rather a handy mark for setting off a word or clause that is to a degree somewhat apart in form or sense from the direct implication of the sentence. All of which brings to mind the words of that very practical schoolmaster who was the first to say to his class, "The best rule of all for punctuation is to put in punctuation marks only where, without them, the meaning would be in doubt."

Prevention and Cure.

Jenkins lived in a flat and the man below was learning to play the trombone.

He was surprised and a little flattered when Jenkins came down to borrow the instrument. He lent it willingly, and told Jenkins he could have it any time he wanted it. Jenkins took full advantage of the offer. He was always borrowing that trombone.

"What do you borrow it for?" asked Jenkins' wife. "You can't play it."

"I know," said Jenkins cheerfully. "Nor can that fellow downstairs while I've got it."

PLANTS USEFUL IN MEDICINE

Another Used to Conceal Some Wonderful Cures From All Sorts of Growing Things.

With the exception of some of the winter spring blossoms, our wild flowers are passed by without comment. Violets, hepaticas, bluebells, and the fall asters are gathered by the goldenrod is admired, and the goldenrod is admired, passing into disrepute on account of its fever-aggravations. There is a time, however, when grand-children were young, when most of our wild flowers and wayside flowers were of prime importance in the household. In the shape of family bitters, and cures.

Now, a pest to the farmer, and of little beauty even to the wild flower collector, was at one time a most useful plant, from which a tea was made that cured all sorts of ailments, from tooth-ache to typhoid fever. From the bone-plant, so common along our roads, a tea was also made. It was a prime favorite in curing the common malady, "breakbone"—do not laugh—probably what we know today as grippe. Combs, and all dog fennel, was brewed into tea as well, and was used as a tonic and blood purifier.

James weed, a corruption of James-weed, was valued by the settlers of that early village as a narcotic, and still so used, for that matter. Self-heal, the little, close-growing purple-leaved plant of our lawns, was used to relieve sufferers with quinsy and throat affections. This plant belongs to the mint family, and most of its parts were of use medicinally. Anyway, spearmint, Oswego tea, catnip, catnip and motherwort are all of value to the simpler folk of a century or more ago.

EMBLEM OF BABYLONIA

Points Out How Eagle Became National Symbol Many Thousands of Years Ago.

The useful schoolboy, whose knowledge is usually referred to whenever a desired to imply general historical information, doubtless knows that the eagles of Rome, and more less connects them with the her eagle of the United States, but it is James H. Brewster of Chicago who traced the lineage of the symbol back further when he recently pointed out that the American eagle probably enough originated some 5000 years ago in Babylonia. Then first he saw the eagle with outstretched wings symbolizing the state. Rome came, and the succession of European nations that have adopted the eagle: Persia, Austria, Prussia, France and others. But this first eagle was a bird of prey, and nothing could have been more opposite to the governmental idea of ancient Babylon than the American Declaration of Independence. Free and powerful, the eagle stands logically for liberty and strength, but when it first became a national symbol, liberty, as the word was understood, did not exist.

Fun in Trees for Children.

That a delight in an old apple, cherry or plum tree is to children, boys or girls. Particularly a tree that has been trained to a low, open head, that youngsters can scramble up in without much effort.

My heart stands still sometimes when I see the children swinging in the plum tree, like the simians some artists tell us we have descended from, and it is the only resemblance I am sure I have observed in mankind. Surely there must be some reason or there would be broken limbs and broken heads among the flocks of children that swarm in that glorious tree.

Frequent cautioning and pleadings do no fear, but if there are no parents the old plum is fulfilling a noble mission, though there are no plum trees sufficiently near for bees and insects to fertilize the flowers, resulting in the tree producing only one kind of fruit, pleasure for the children.

Chance Discoveries.

Some of the finest friendships have come out of the chance circumstances. Some of the greatest discoveries have been due to the fortunate closures of life's incidentals. Much self-discovery is the direct product of the unlooked for. Science has been enriched by the fortunate combinations of accidentals whose meanings have been caught by observant men. The great fact remains that most of them have been paraded before men and the ages to be discovered only after the ages to come will wonder at the lost opportunities of the present age when they have harnessed powers we see not—the mysteries wonder at.

Equality of Opportunity.

It is the pride of every American that many cherished names, at whose names our hearts bound, were worn by the sons of poverty who conquered poverty and became fixed stars in the firmament. There is no horizontal line in this country like the line of the earth, that holds one below forevermore, and lets another come to the surface to stay there ever. Our stratification is like the sea, where every individual drop is free to move, and where from the deepest depths of the deep any drop may come up to glitter on the highest of that rolls.—Gärfield.

Stevenson and Lang.

Robert Louis Stevenson was "ordered South," and, as we know, he left it on record that he never had been quite happy anywhere except at Hyeres. But that accomplished man of letters, Andrew Lang, was of another mind. He went to the Riviera, and was bored by it. He particularly detested being introduced to strangers and having afternoon tea in hotels, so when the time came for his departure to his last holiday he chose Ban-chory, on Deeside. "After all," said he, "there is nothing better than Scotland." So he died in the land he loved.

HORSES IN ANCIENT BATTLE

Seem to Have Been Little Used Except to Carry the Infantry Into the Fight.

In the old days when the Romans and Greeks fought furious battles, the charioteers drove their cars in all directions, hurled their javelins, and by the din and clatter of horses and wheels commonly threw the ranks of the enemy into disorder, and, making their way among the squadrons of the enemy's cavalry, leaped down from their chariots and fought on foot. The charioteers then withdrew, little by little, from the fight, and placed their chariots in such a way that if they were hard pressed they could readily retreat to their own side. Thus in battle they afforded the mobility of cavalry with the steadiness of infantry. Daily practice enabled them to pull up their horses at full speed when on a steep slope, or to run out on the pole and stand on the yoke, and to get nimbly back into the chariot.

With the introduction of cavalry in the later Iron age came larger horses, but their use for this purpose seems to have been restricted to isolated areas. There is no doubt that the west German tribes, as late as the campaign of Caesar in Gaul, used only the shaggy pony. It is said in cavalry actions they held it disgraceful and slothful to use any kind of saddle, and instead of charging in squadrons they dismounted and fought on foot. As far as England is concerned, the art of riding seems to have been introduced by the Normans. The Saxons appear to have been but indifferent horsemen.

GIVES CAT PALM OF WISDOM

Writer in California Newspaper Comes Forward With Loud Praise of Household Pet.

It is often a subject for discussion as to which is the wisest animal. Some say it is the dog and some are in favor of the horse, while scientists appear to think it is the elephant.

We beg to differ with all these views. We do not even agree to the movement in certain quarters to give the palm for wisdom to the fox. To our mind the wisest animal that lives is the cat. And, if it goes to that, we are willing to have it further known that of all animals we like the cat the best.

A cat is so wise that it succeeds in not letting us know how wise it really is. If you will be friendly with cats—and that's an easy thing to do—you will be astounded at their wisdom. And you could not imagine how affectionate a cat can also be.

There is an old yellow cat up in the Verdugo hills that we wouldn't trade for all the dogs and horses and elephants outside of Barnum's circus. When the last of his nine lives departs from the earth those mountains will be a very lonely place for us.—Los Angeles Times.

For Success in Business.

Wealth is, after all, only what is produced by us, either by mental or physical labor. It stands to reason, therefore, that if a man would become rich in this world's goods, or in knowledge of things or men, he must work hard and long to acquire such knowledge and skill. And he will be rewarded in proportion to his work. Despite a lucky stroke occasionally here and there in a man's life, I am a firm believer in the motto that nothing really comes by chance to a man which is of much value beyond the ordinary.

Success has usually been prepared for, striven for, helped onward by his own innate ability, work, or tact in ways the exterior world often failed to recognize. Hard work is the best friend any man ever embraced.

I would say to all youthful beginners in business that business is like the land—the more you put into it the more you will get out. If you put nothing in, you will get precious little out; if you tend it in desultory fashion, you can only expect an indifferent harvest, if any at all.—Exchange.

Where Is Teschen?

This is the latest breakfast-table problem. Although the town has figured prominently in European history at various times for over a century, Lloyd George had to confess, when it was mentioned at the peace conference, that he did not know exactly where it was situated.

Nor was he alone in his lack of knowledge. It is doubtful if one person in fifty would be able to give you any information about the town.

And yet it was once the scene of a great peace conference—that of 1779, when Vergennes, the foreign minister of France, arranged the peace of Teschen, thereby avoiding a great European war, and also, in all probability, securing the independence of the United States.

Right Pivot.

A ducky was unloading horses and when he had the halter hanks of six horses he started up the road toward camp and the stables. Just before entering camp the road turned sharply to the right; in fact, it made a right angle with its previous course.

At this point the ducky with his six halter hanks experienced some difficulty in getting all the horses to make the turn and he was heard to shout: "Here, what's the matter with you all? Don't you all know how to make a turn to da right? Number one pivot! Pivot dar on de right."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Camel Cigarettes

They Win You On Quality!

Your enjoyment of Camels will be very great because their refreshing flavor and fragrance and mellowness is so enticingly different. You never tasted such a cigarette! Bite is eliminated and there is a cheerful absence of any unpleasant cigarette after-taste or any unpleasant cigarette odor!

Camels are made of an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos and are smooth and mild, but have that desirable full-body and certainly hand out satisfaction in generous measure. You will prefer this Camel blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

Give Camels the stiffest tryout, then compare them with any cigarette in the world at any price for quality, flavor, satisfaction. No matter how liberally you smoke Camels they will not tire your taste!

WONDER AT FOREST'S QUIET

Travelers Have Frequently Commented on Apparent Deficiency of Animal Life in the Woods.

European travelers frequently allude to the American forest as remarkable for its solitude and deficiency of animal life. A foreigner is struck with surprise, when rambling through the bush, at the scarcity of birds, rabbits, and hares, and astonished when in the deepest recesses of the wild country he sees no increase of their numbers. When paddling his canoe through lake and river he will startle but few pairs of exceedingly timid waterfowl, where in Europe they swim in multitudes. This scarcity of animals, I would remark, is not peculiar to the American wilderness. The same fact has been observed in extensive forests both in Europe and Asia; and in proportion as the traveler penetrates into their interiors he finds a smaller number of animals of almost every species. Birds, insects and quadrupeds will multiply in a certain ratio with the progress of agriculture, so long as there remains a sufficiency of wild wood to afford them a refuge and a home. They use the forest chiefly for shelter, and the open grounds for forage; the woods are their house, the meadows their farm.—Wilson Flagg, in "Woods and By-Ways of New England."

Silvering Mirrors.

There are several processes for silvering mirrors, the simplest of which, perhaps, is to provide a large flat stone table and spread upon it evenly a sheet of tinfoil without crease or blemish. This is covered uniformly to a depth of one-eighth inch with mercury. The plate of glass, perfectly cleansed of all grease and impurities, is floated in the mercury carefully so as to exclude air bubbles. It is then pressed down by loading with weights in order to press out the mercury which remains fluid. After about 24 hours it may be raised or its edge to harden, and should be finished in a few weeks. Another method involves the use of a solution made as follows: Mix one ounce nitrate of silver, three ounces water, one ounce liquid ammonia and three ounces spirits of wine. Filter after solution has stood three or four hours. To every ounce of the solution add one-fourth ounce sugar dissolved in equal quantities of water and alcohol. The surface to be silvered is covered with this liquid at a temperature of 160 degrees, maintained till the deposition of silver is complete. When dry, coated surface is covered with mastic varnish.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

The Anvil Herald is indebted to Mrs. E. E. Scott for samples of peaches from her trees. The particular tree from which the peaches sent to this office were gathered is a seedling, the seed from which the tree grew being planted in 1903, and for about fourteen years has been a prolific bearer. Mrs. Scott says the tree has had no particu-lar attention, she having had the soil loosened up a few times with a grub-bing hoe. The samples sent to this of-fice should be conclusive evidence to the most skeptical that fruit growing, particularly peaches, is just about as sure a crop in this section as anywhere in the state, as we question whether any tree in what we are accustomed to consider the "fruit belt" can show a better record for continuous bearing than this tree, and no peach could have a more delicious flavor. If our people would pay more attention to fruit growing we believe it would soon be established that this part of West Texas is peculiarly adapted to the growing of some kinds of fruit, particularly peaches; and what an opportunity a good orchard would afford the frugal housewife just now to swat the profiteering hogs! The Anvil Herald hopes at no distant day to see every home, both country and town, sur-rounded by an orchard. Many thanks are due Mrs. Scott for this appreciated remembrance.

Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Horger returned the first of the week from Dallas where they had been on a few days visit. It will be remembered that Mr. and Mrs. Horger left here about a month ago for Brooksmith, Brown county, where the reverend gentleman assisted in a Nazarene protracted meeting in progress there. Mr. Horger says all field crops are excellent in sections visited and that the peach crop is simply immense. He says in some sections covered by their itinerary a small percentage of crops were abandoned on account of excessive rains; that there was some complaint of boll weevils but they were not as destructive as in this section.

The Anvil Herald is indebted to Mrs. Fritz Leinweber for a lot of pears which will play their part in helping the Anvil Herald family in swatting the H. C. L. Undoubtedly the great-est fruit crop ever grown in this section is being enjoyed by those of our people who had the foresight to plant out a few trees. While no one will doubt that the exceptionally fine qual-ity of fruit grown in this section this season is due in a measure to the unusual amount of rain, we think it is a reason-able assertion that a fruit crop requires no more moisture than field crops, and anyone planting the latter and neglect-ing the former is inconsistent. Nothing adds more to the pleasure and health of a home than a few fruit trees. Mrs. Leinweber will please ac-cept many thanks for her appreciated remembrance.

Nothing adds more to the pleasure and health of a home than a few fruit trees. Mrs. Leinweber will please ac-cept many thanks for her appreciated remembrance.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Horger returned the first of the week from Dallas where they had been on a few days visit. It will be remembered that Mr. and Mrs. Horger left here about a month ago for Brooksmith, Brown county, where the reverend gentleman assisted in a Nazarene protracted meeting in progress there. Mr. Horger says all field crops are excellent in sections visited and that the peach crop is simply immense. He says in some sections covered by their itinerary a small percentage of crops were abandoned on account of excessive rains; that there was some complaint of boll weevils but they were not as destructive as in this section.

The Anvil Herald is indebted to Mrs. Fritz Leinweber for a lot of pears which will play their part in helping the Anvil Herald family in swatting the H. C. L. Undoubtedly the great-est fruit crop ever grown in this section is being enjoyed by those of our people who had the foresight to plant out a few trees. While no one will doubt that the exceptionally fine qual-ity of fruit grown in this section this season is due in a measure to the unusual amount of rain, we think it is a reason-able assertion that a fruit crop requires no more moisture than field crops, and anyone planting the latter and neglect-ing the former is inconsistent. Nothing adds more to the pleasure and health of a home than a few fruit trees. Mrs. Leinweber will please ac-cept many thanks for her appreciated remembrance.

The cotton marketing season will soon be on in South Texas. At this writing (the middle of July) the average condition of the cotton crop all over the cotton belt is considerably below normal, owing to a late, unfavorable spring, excessive rains, and heavy boll-weevil damage. This condition, taken with the reduced acreage, indicates a crop far below normal, and that, too, at a time when the world's supply of raw cotton is greatly depleted and just as the conclusion of world peace is opening the channels of commerce to unrestricted intercourse. This would indicate a good price for the staple, and the market has been responding steadily to this bullish condition recently. Now it behooves the farmer to realize this very elemental fact if he himself and not some one else is to profit by these conditions.
The spinners are buying sparingly—only so much as they have demands in sight for—and if we rush our cotton on the market pell-mell, as fast as picked, we force down the price and ourselves become the worst kind of bears. The logical, the business-like, the patriotic thing is to figure out carefully our cost of production, add a reasonable profit to that and sell only as we can realize that price, storing and keeping in a good merchantable condition the balance until the demand will absorb it at our price.

Of course to demand our price for our cotton pre-supposes several things without which as a foundation our hopes of a remunerative price are built upon the sands and are destined to crumble beneath our feet. We must first of all be independent of the credit man. To be independent of the credit man we must be able to finance our own operations. To finance our own operations we must live at home.
Therefore, the first requisite of industrial independence for the Southern farmer is a system of agriculture that will make the living secure aside from the cotton crop and allow it to be a surplus cash crop entirely. Then, secondly, we must have storage facilities for safely and economically warehousing the product in order that it may be kept in a sound, merchantable condition until the demands of consumption will absorb it. There is cotton in Texas today that has lain out in the open rotting since last season, and the owners deserve the loss they are going to suffer. The only lamentable thing about it is these rotten bales help to depress the price for every body concerned in the crop. And, thirdly, having our own living secured and storage facilities provided sufficient to care for our product, we must have the backbone to demand and stand for what is our own. In this way and in no other is the farmer destined to be his own master and enjoy his just share of the wealth he creates.

This is the vacation season, and most people in the professions and the other industries are having theirs.
Why not the farmer his? To most people on the farm unfortunately the idea of a vacation is a visit to wife's or husby's folks—and extra labor and expense entailed upon them. Why not take advantage of the summer lull in labor and toil to get better acquainted with our neighbors and to build up and cement a better community spirit? Get up a community gathering, combining the features of a gala-day picnic and a farmer's chautaqua. To features of amusement add practical discussions, by practical men and educators and leaders, of practical problems of production and marketing farm products, community upbuilding, and educational and social progress and advancement. Idleness is not rest; change of occupation is.
Make yourself a vacation, but make it count for something worth while in the making.

The subject of our sketch was born in Seven, Canton Muenster, Alsace, Germany, July 5th, 1840, and he came over with his parents to join the Castro colony on the Medina River when a boy 5 years of age. When the civil war broke out he joined Capt.
Bonnett's Company of Texas Cavalry and saw many states while in the U.
S. Army. After his discharge from the army he rejoined the Alsatian Colonists in Castroville where he married Miss Catherina Schmidt, March 16, 1874 in Castroville, Texas. Later he and his brother, Seraphin bought some land near Idlewild in Bexar County where he spent the greater part of his life. Some 8 years ago he moved to Lacoste, Texas, where he died after a lingering illness, July 25, 1919, at 3 o'clock p. m. He had attained an age of 79 years and 20 days.
He is survived by his griefstricken widow, two sons, William Ittis, of Idlewild and Adolph Ittis of San Antonio and one daughter, Mrs. Henry Biediger, of Lacoste. He is further survived by two sisters, Mrs. Rosa Geant of Lacoste and Mrs. Philomena Bohl of Castroville, and 24 grand-children. His brother, Seraphin having preceded him into death over a year ago.

The funeral was held on St. Mary's Cemetery after highmass of Requiem at 10 o'clock a. m. Saturday, July 26,

The St. George Society, of which the deceased was a charter member followed the bier, and a large con-friends.

A good man has gone to his reward.

LALLEY-LIGHT

ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER FOR EVERY FARM

Saves Labor On The Farm

Lalley-Light is actually a farm economy.
It is an economy because it saves both labor and time.
It is economy because, on the other hand, it gives better light for work which must be done before daylight or after dark.
Used to operate separators, churns, etc., its power saves labor by releasing that labor to perform some other task.
And it is reliable. Light and power are always ready, at the lowest possible operating cost.
Owners' themselves tell you so in our testimonial book.
It is free; and a demonstration of Lalley-Light is free.

SMALL CHURCH HAS HISTORY

Many Reasons Why Little North Devonshire Edifice Appeals to the Tourist of Leisure.

It has an odd sound, "Brent Tor," hasn't it? And it is just as odd as its sounds. Brent Tor is a little bit of a stone church built high on the frowning cliffs of the wild North Devonshire coast in England. The church is so little that a Devonshire yokel with a keen sense of humor is said to have inscribed this cryptic warning, which puzzled many a simple-minded Devonshire farmer: "If you get into the second aisle of Brent Tor, you will never get out again." There is no second aisle in the wee church at all.

Brent Tor was built centuries ago by a man who was lost among the steep cliffs and rushing waters of the wild North Devon coast. The fog mists enveloped him. In his anguish as the roar and spray of the cold Atlantic assailed him he vowed solemnly that if he ever came safely out of the fog without pitching into the growing ocean he would build a church where he landed. Brent Tor was the result.

The good folk 'round about Devonshire tell how the devil tried to hamper the building of the little church. At last St. Michael de la Rupe, to whom it was dedicated, grew weary of having the devil interfere with the proceedings and heaved a great mass of cliff at his satanic majesty. There was no further trouble.

A peculiarity of Brent Tor is the fact that it can be seen from all directions—it is a veritable landmark. Before it toss the restless waves of the Atlantic ocean and behind it slope the undulating Devonshire moors.

Novel Cure for Nerves.

I have a Philadelphia friend who was ordered by a famous neurological specialist to travel for a month on a limited express to cure him of nervousness. He took a stateroom and began. He was a man of extensive business interests, but as he could be reached by wire at a known point on the road at certain hours, coming or going, he kept in touch with his affairs without hindrance. It was a giddy life and the excitement effected a complete cure—the exact that the familiar counting room was thereafter too dull for endurance and a Tigris band was installed that played the wildest Hungarian music from nine till three. To everybody but the boss the remedy was worse than the ailment.—Julius Chalmers in Brooklyn Eagle.

Sharp, Stabbing Pains.

Often Tell of Weak Kidneys. A Hondo Resident Shows You What to Do.

The sharp twinge of pain in the small of the back that strikes you after any sudden twist or awkward motion, may tell of weak kidneys. And there are often disturbances of the urine—too frequent urination, scalding or burning pain during passage, discolored urine and sediment.

Doan's Kidney Pills are prepared especially for weakened kidneys, kidney backache and urinary disorders—have proven their merit in thousands of cases. Doan's are endorsed throughout the civilized world—are recommended by Hondo residents.

Joe Huesser, Hondo, says: "I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for I know they are excellent. I suffered with my back, and my kidneys bothered me a great deal. I had sharp knife-like pains in my kidneys every time I would move. I had to get up nights on account of the irregular action of my kidneys. The secretions burned in passage and were highly colored. A friend told me of Doan's Kidney Pills, so I used a box which cured the attack. I always use Doan's now when my back bothers me and they never fail to help me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Huesser had. Foster - Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

DID NOT QUITE UNDERSTAND

But Mrs. Smithers Meant Well, and No Doubt Her Good Intentions Are of Record.

On one side of the hall in the new apartment building lived Mr. and Mrs. Smithers; on the other side of the hall lived two girls who taught in the public schools and who were having their first experience in "bacheling." Mrs. Smithers didn't know them very well, but she took a motherly interest in them to the extent of hoping that they had enough to eat and that their necessarily hasty and amateurish spread would not give them indigestion.

The other day, out of kindness of heart, she took them a batch of fresh biscuits she had just baked. And while she was there, she showed them how to use the stove, gave them some hints on marketing, wrote down a lot of recipes for simple viands, and gave them a lecture on food values and the preparation of leftovers.

They were very grateful to the dear lady, and they told us all about it. And they made us promise solemnly that we would never tell her that they were teachers of domestic science.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Start of Big Industry.

Upon the invention of a machine for sewing leather shoes, for which the patent was issued to Gordon McKay, April 29, 1862, was built the great boot and shoe industry of the United States. McKay purchased, in 1859, Blake's sewing machine, which was one simply using wax thread, with a stationary horn attached. While the machine intended for sewing boots and shoes operated well in parts of the work, it failed in stitching the heels and toes. McKay changed the feeding apparatus, introduced automatic contrivances, and finally was successful in adapting it to all kinds of work. After the breaking out of the Civil war, McKay began to make army shoes, and in 1862 made contracts with 62 firms for their use. In 1876, 1,500 were in operation. These machines have been used in foreign countries, and more than 100,000,000 shoes are annually made on them in the United States.

Fashion.

Manners have been somewhat cynically defined to be a contrivance of wise men to keep fools at a distance. Fashion is shrewd to detect those who do not belong to her train, and seldom wastes her attentions. Society is very swift in its instincts, and, if you do not belong to it, resists and sneers at you, or quietly drops you. The first weapon engages the party attacked; the second is still more effective, but is not to be resisted, as the date of the transaction is not easily found. People grow up and grow old under this infliction, and never suspect the truth, ascribing the solitude which acts on them very injuriously to any cause but the right one.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

A Bilious Attack.

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take three of Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd, of Henrietta, Ky. "In February 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since."

Race riots in Chicago are quieting down. The district (black belt) is guarded by 6,000 state troops, 3,000 policemen and 1,000 deputy sheriffs. The city coroner gives the number of dead at 33; 306 people injured in the riots were treated in hospitals. Six blocks of homes of white stockyards workers were destroyed by fire last Saturday. 16,000 negro workers were then barred from returning to work at the stockyards Monday to prevent further trouble.

In Palestine, Texas, a negro employee of a railroad freight house was discharged. Other negroes employed there demanded that he be re-instated. This not being complied with the other negroes quit and demanded their time.

What is Best for Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson of Drumquinn, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Tablets as "the best medicine I ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents.

In the face of growing unrest over the high cost of living, as indicated by the spreading strike of railroad workers, the war department on Monday, August 18th, will sell to the public through the parcel post system, at prices lower than those now prevailing in the market millions of pounds of meat, pumpkin, squash and other commodities.

The Belgian minister of food has bought all the American supplies in Belgium. They were valued at 100,000,000 francs and will be retailed under government control.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound over the seat of pain is often more effective for a lame back than a plaster and does not cost anything like as much.

Six dreadnoughts and other heavy war ships of the Pacific fleet trembled and were shaken severely by a double earthquake at 4:18 o'clock last Saturday afternoon, 20 miles off the coast of the state of Colima, Mexico. None of the ships reported any damage. The shock is explained as being due to a tidal wave which may have had its origin in the volcanic action of some kind on the bed of the Pacific Ocean.

To Improve Your Digestion.

"For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them did I find the right treatment. Since taking them my digestion is fine."—Mrs. BLANCHE BOWERS, Indiana, Pa.

Cure for Dysentery.

"While I was in Ashland, Kansas, a gentleman overheard me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes William Whitelaw, of Des Moines, Iowa. "He told me in detail of what it had done for his family, but more especially his daughter who was lying at the point of death with a violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he did, and fully believes that by doing so saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results."

WITH CONVOY OF DOLPHINS

Sailors on Tropic Seas Appreciate Incident Which Varies the Monotony of the Voyage.

Whoever has sailed a tropic sea will appreciate Mr. William Beebe's description in the American Museum Journal of a school of playful dolphins that appeared suddenly from the depths and adopted for their playfellow the ship upon which he was sailing.

It was a lazy, tropical morning, writes Mr. Beebe, and the engines seemed to throb in a half-somnolent manner. I folded up in a deck chair and idly watched the beautiful profile of the island astern.

Suddenly the sea became alive with virile beings—curving steel-gray bodies that shot forth like torpedoes from some mighty battery. I thrilled in every fiber, and the sloth of the tropics fell from me as by a galvanic shock. The dolphins had come! Usually they appear in their haunts between Dominica and Martinique, but here they were in dozens, leaping for breath with the regularity of machinery. Now and then, in a spirit of play, one of them vaulted high in the air, ten feet above the surface, twisted and fell broadside with a slap that could be heard half a mile away. A school came close alongside, slackened speed to that of the vessel, and now and then dived beneath and appeared off the opposite quarter. Another trick was for one or two to station themselves just ahead of the bow and to remain there motionless, urged on by the pressure of the water from behind. It was unexpected and splendid to have this battalion of magnificent cetaceans, bursting with vital energy and fullness of life, injected without warning into the calm quiet of this tropic sea.

FARMER SUPREME IN CHINA

Tiller of the Soil Lives Circumscribed Life, and Is Satisfied With a Bare Existence.

In recognition of the importance of Chinese agriculture the emperor himself, in the days of the empire, followed the wise custom of turning a furrow of ground once a year in the sacred precincts of the Temple of Heaven at Peking. It is the farmer still who is the truest representative of Chinese society and the farmer's baby who carries on the tradition in its soundest aspects. His life as he grows up may be narrowly circumscribed by the mud walls of his humble thatched home, which he shares indiscriminately with the pigs and live stock; the rise and fall of dynasties or republics trouble him not at all. If the year passes with no devastating floods, wrecking the results of many months' labor, food will be sufficient; no more can be asked. Now and then strolling actors come through the village and set up their grass-mat theaters; a story-teller makes his appearance at the temple festival, recounting the strangely living deeds of miraculous beings in centuries long since harvested; itinerant traders, their wares on their backs, pass down the deep-sunken road, bringing the gossip of the outer world. If life is lived according to the irreducible denominator it is not wholly barren. There is the vast accumulated thought of the past, the immeasurable world of the countless dead, toward which the present reaches out like a ring ever widening toward eternity.—Asia Magazine.

Slightly Bewildering.

"Dad, what is a roost?" asked Charlie. "A roost, my son, is a pole upon which chickens sit at night," replied his father. "And what's a perch, dad?" "A perch is what chickens perch on." "Then I suppose, dad, a chicken could roost on a perch?" came the further inquiry. "Of course," was the smiling reply. "And they could perch on a roost?" "Why, yes," answered dad. "But if chickens perched on a roost that would make the roost a perch, wouldn't it? But if just after some chickens had perched on a roost and made it a perch some more chickens came along and roosted on the perch and made it a roost, then the roost would be a perch and the perch would be a roost, and some of the chickens would be perchers and the others would be roosters, and—well, there!"

Doing Penance.

"Where's the old man, Billy?" "Why, his wife caught him shoveling in chicken pie at a swell restaurant and now he's eating humble pie in the kitchen."

Queer Notions.

It is a superstition that as soon as a death takes place in a house, all the looking glasses should be covered up or turned with the face to the wall if they are hanging glasses, and must remain covered or reversed till the body has been taken out to burial, and that no person left in the house must on any account look in the glasses during the time between death and funeral. It is strange, and somewhat akin to the idea, that it is safe to cover looking glasses during a thunderstorm. I never knew of a looking glass which was known to have drawn a lightning "stroke," though the same is possible. Queer notions are often founded on facts.—Yorkshire Post Correspondent.

Sees First Well Day In Twenty-two Years.

Mrs. Altenburg Says Tanlac Is One Of Greatest Blessings Of Life

"I am so grateful for the good Tanlac has done me I consider it a privilege to make a public statement so that other sufferers may learn how I was relieved of nearly a lifetime of suffering," said Mrs. J. D. Altenburg, wife of a well-known stone finisher, 4213 Simpson street, Dallas, Texas, recently.

"When you consider that I have been a sick woman these twenty-two years," she continued, "it seems hard to believe that I have been relieved in less than three months, and any medicine that would do that should be praised the world over. Twenty-two years ago, when I was a sixteen year old girl, I had a severe attack of typhoid fever that left me with a serious stomach trouble that has made my life miserable ever since. My food lay in my stomach like lead and wouldn't digest. I suffered from terrible headaches and had a feeling of weakness—a sort of sinking away hard to describe. My nerves were shattered and at times I couldn't bear to have anybody in my sight, anyone speaking to me or just moving about the room would irritate me so I'd almost break down and cry. Not a single week passed in all that time that I wasn't sick in bed and often I was totally unfit to do a thing. I fell off until I was dreadfully thin, and about the first of this year I was so weak and run-down my condition was truly pitiable and I could look forward to nothing but a life time of misery and disappointment. I was forever trying all sorts of medicines in the hope of finding one that would give me the blessing of health, but nothing did me any good till I started on Tanlac.

"It was about the first of April that I began taking Tanlac, and in a little while I felt I was getting better. I gained in strength and weight, and my friends could see it in my face and soon they began to tell me how much better I was looking, and, really, I haven't felt so well as I do now in fifteen years. I have felt no discomfort since I began taking Tanlac and very seldom have a headache, my stomach has toned up and I digest my food with ease and I have gained all of eight pounds. I am getting stronger all the time and I can now do many kinds of work that I haven't been able to do in years. My improvement has been the talk of the neighborhood and I believe that Tanlac is one of the greatest blessings I ever had, for I feel that I am going to be a well woman for the first time in more than twenty years."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

BEIT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Providing for an Issue of Bonds by the State for the Purpose of Construction of Highways.

House Joint Resolution No. 13.

A Joint Resolution proposing to amend Section 49, Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas relating to the power to create debts by or on behalf of the State so as hereafter to authorize the Legislature to enact such laws as may be necessary directing the Government of the State to issue bonds in a sum not to exceed $75,000,000; providing for the levy of a tax to create the necessary interest and sinking fund therefor; and providing that the proceeds from the sale of such bonds shall be used in the construction of durable, hard surfaced roads upon the public highways of the State.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Amend said Section so as to read after its adoption as follows:

Article 3. Section 49. No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or pay existing debt; and the debt created to supply deficiencies in the revenue shall never exceed in the aggregate at any one time, two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000); provided however, that the Legislature may enact such legislation as may be necessary to authorize and direct the Government to issue bonds of the State in a sum not to exceed Seventy-five million ($75,000,000) dollars, the proceeds to be used in the construction of durable, hard-surfaced roads upon the public highways of the State; provided that such proceeds shall be apportioned to the different counties of the State according to the needs of the State Highways in such counties; and, provided further that under Legislative authority a tax not to exceed twenty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property in the State may be levied, assessed and collected to provide the necessary interest and sinking fund therefor, and said taxes shall be in addition to the taxes authorized by Article 8 Section 9 of the Constitution.

SEC. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors for members of the Legislature at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the 1st Tuesday in November, the same being the 4th day of November, A. D. 1919, and the Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. Those favoring the amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words

"For amendment to Section 49, Article 3 of the Constitution proposing to amend Section 49, of Article 3, relating to the power to create debts by or on behalf of the State, so as hereafter to authorize the Legislature to enact a law directing the issuance of bonds by the Governor of the State in a sum not to exceed Seventy-five Million ($75,000,000) dollars, the proceeds of said bonds to be used in the construction of durable, hard-surfaced roads upon public highways of the State; and providing for the levy of a tax not to exceed 20 cents on the one Hundred Dollars valuation, on taxable property in the State. Those opposing the amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "Against the amendment to Section 49, Article 3 of the Constitution proposing to amend Section 49 of Article 3 relating to the power to create debts by or on behalf of the State, so as hereafter to authorize the Legislature to enact a law directing the issuance of bonds by the Governor of the State in a sum not to exceed Seventy-five Million ($75,000,000) dollars, the proceeds of said bonds to be used in the construction of durable, hard-surfaced roads upon public highways of the State; and providing for the levy of a tax, not to exceed 20 cents on the One Hundred Dollars valuation, on taxable property in the State."

SEC. 3. The sum of Five thousand dollars ($5,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of such proclamation, publication and election.

SEC 4. The fact that the Legislature is restricted by the provisions of Section 49, Article 3 of the State Constitution from enacting needed Highway Legislation creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists, demanding the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read up on three several days, and such rule is hereby suspended.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make this beauty lotion cheaply for your face, neck, arms and hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whiteners and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.
